

Consulting for WEEE registration

Would you like to have clarification on the question as to whether your company is required to be registered as a "producer" in Germany according to the regulations of the Act Governing the Sale, Return and Environmentally Sound Disposal of Electrical and Electronic Equipment (short form: Electronics Act)? Is the business activity of your company not limited to the area of an EU Member State? Would you still like the WEEE registration in the particular countries so as to avoid a ban on sales, administrative fines, and costly warning notices, but are facing the challenge of actually having to register your company as a producer? Can you also report unfortunately on the nonuniform national registration requirements in the EU Member States?

What we offer

We can advise you in all questions regarding the WEEE registration both domestically and abroad. For registrations outside of Germany, we work together with experienced local attorneys. We will check for you determine whether you are actually a "producer" in terms of the pertinent laws and which countries you will be required to have a WEEE registration. We will check for you to determine what requirements have to be fulfilled and advise you on the design options. We can also handle the correspondence with the relevant authorities domestically and abroad.

If necessary, we can represent you as well in disputes in connection with the WEEE registration.

Scope of service

- Review the producer characteristics in the individual EU Member States
- Review the registration requirements in the individual EU Member States
- Handle correspondence with the relevant registration authorities
- Representation in court and out-of-court during disputes
