

Software escrow consulting

Are you a software manufacturer and want or must store the source code of delivered software for your customers without disclosing it? Have you purchased software critical to your business and have concerns as to whether the investment will be sustainable over time? Do you require an escrow contract to stipulate the conditions of storing and generating source code in detail in order to stabilize the risks for both contracting parties?

What we offer

We will advise you in all questions regarding escrow contracts related to the storing of the source code for software critical to the business and the generating thereof in certain cases, particularly in the case of the insolvency of the software company or the stopping of the software product. We design and check escrow contracts, obtain suitable storage points, and take on the handling of the contract in the event that a condition occurs. Regardless of whether this is a one-time use or the design of general escrow conditions for multiple use, we have suitable design ideas and will accompany you even during subsequent contract execution. Furthermore, we can revise existing escrow contracts and adapt them to current legal and actual circumstances. If necessary, we can represent you as well in disputes in connection with escrow contracts.
